DAY AND PIECE HANDS: BY INDUSTRIES.

[This presentation gives the number of day and piece hands, by ages, who were employed in the various manufacturing and mechanical industries on June 30, 1885. The age classification is as follows:—under 10 years (Under 10), 10 years and over but under 14 years (10 and over, Under 14), 14 years and over but under 21 years (14 and over, Under 21), and 21 years and over (21 and Over). Owing to the small number returned, only 24 for all industries, the day hands under 10 years of age are included in the column headed "10 and over, Under 14," proper explanation being made in foot-notes for each industry so affected. There was no return of piece hands under 10 years of age.]

WOMEN FURNISHED WITH WORK AT HOME: BY INDUSTRIES.

NUMBER OF WOMEN FURNISHED WITH WORK AT HOME AND WAGES PAID.

[In many cases, the manufacturers furnishing work for women to be done at home were unable to state the number of women so employed or the amount of wages paid them. This, necessarily, renders this presentation incomplete, which is due to the fact that the cost of manufacture is paid first to the contractors or sub-contractors, who, in turn, pay it, in part, as wages to the women doing the work, the latter being really in their employ and not in that of the manufacturers.]

CLASSIFIED WEEKLY WAGES: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In those industries marked with an asterisk (*), 9 in number, the number of females for whom classified wages were reported is in excess of the whole number of females employed June 30, 1885. The reason for the slight variations in results, which affect but 173 persons in a total of 248,200 employes, is probably found in the fact that the figure showing the whole number of persons employed was for a certain day, while in reporting classified wages the actual number employed during the year was undoubtedly accounted for by some manufacturers. The variation in no way affects the value of the classification of weekly wages. Those persons receiving board or rent in addition to wages, as stated in the foot-notes, are included in the figures given in the table.]

CLASSIFIED WEEKLY WAGES: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In those industries marked with an asterisk (*), 9 in number, the number of females for whom classified wages were reported is in excess of the whole number of females employed June 30, 1885. The reason for the slight variations in results, which affect but 173 persons in a total of 248,200 employes, is probably found in the fact that the figure showing the whole number of persons employed was for a certain day, while in reporting classified wages the actual number employed during the year was undoubtedly accounted for by some manufacturers. The variation in no way affects the value of the classification of weekly wages. Those persons receiving board or rent in addition to wages, as stated in the foot-notes, are included in the figures given in the table.]

DAILY WORKING TIME: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In this presentation, the "establishment" is the basis; that is, the figures indicate the number of establishments reporting daily working time in hours and fractions of hours for women and minors, for male adults, and, as regards Saturday, for all persons employed. When figures appear in the column headed "For Women and Minors," opposite the line "Not employed," it indicates, in the number of establishments specified, that women and minors were not returned as being employed. In the same way, figures in the column headed "For Male Adults," against the line "Not employed," indicate that male adults were not returned as being employed in the specified number of establishments. "Not stated" includes those establishments not making any return whatever as regards daily working time. The three totals given opposite the name of each industry indicate, in each case, the total number of establishments in the industry specified.]

LONGEST, SHORTEST, AND AVERAGE DAILY WORKING TIME: BY INDUSTRIES.

[In this presentation, the "establishment" is the basis; that is, the figures indicate the number of establishments reporting the longest and shortest daily working time in hours and fractions of hours for male adults, and the average daily working time from May to November, and from November to May, in hours and fractions of hours, for all persons employed. "Not stated" includes those establishments not making any return whatever as regards longest, shortest, and average daily working time. The four totals given opposite the name of each industry indicate, in each case, the total number of establishments in the specified industry.]

YEARLY WORKING TIME: BY INDUSTRIES.

[The objects of this presentation are to show, for each industry in the Commonwealth, in days, first, the possible yearly working time; second, the actual running time; third, the short time; fourth, the idle time; fifth, by a combination of the preceding figures for short and idle time, the combined lost time from various causes, and sixth, the net actual time worked. The possible working time is arrived at by taking for each establishment 307 days as the normal yearly working time, and adding all over time in excess of 307 days. The net actual time worked is this possible working time less the combined lost time. The short time includes all those instances where establishments ran on three-quarters time, two-thirds time, half time, or less than half time for a specified number of days, this short time being reduced to its equivalent in actual days lost. Idle time includes days idle from stoppages for repairs or improvements, suspensions or shut-downs on account of slack trade, strikes, or lockouts, etc. The days not worked on account of establishments running on short time added to the days not worked on account of establishments being idle make the total lost time. The use of the asterisk (*) indicates duplications. For instance, an establishment might run part of the year on three-quarters time and part on half time, requiring the same establishment to be entered twice in the column headed "Establishments." Again, the same establishment might have lost time from stoppages for repairs and also from suspensions on account of slack trade; or, the same establishment might run for a number of days on short time and also lose time from stoppages, etc.; these variations in running time would cause the establishments to be considered twice, and the asterisk points out these necessary duplications.]
